DEDICATION

The school of today is based on the conviction that each individual should develop his utmost potentialities by means of those experiences which help him develop concepts of values and patterns of behavior suitable to the democratic philosophy of life, and which will yield him the greatest degree of personal satisfaction in his relations with other men. It is to the ultimate consummation of this ideal at Milwaukee State Teachers College that we dedicate the 1940 Echo Annual.

Thank you so much for the pre-Kirk smack that nite! I hope I see you again! Dorothy Balch

COMMONWEALTH

Security, democracy, order — these were the three driving aims behind the organization of the Commonwealth in 1923 and the same objectives have been furthered by the 1939-40 administration.

This year's board, with the help of some interested individuals and the Echo Weekly, made investigations of all commonwealth committees and the four classes to determine their financial status. The board discovered that each of the four classes had tremendous balances at the end of each year and so began a movement to incorporate the class constitution in the commonwealth constitution, thus giving the commonwealth board the power to regulate class dues.

On the whole, the commonwealth board followed a policy of clean-up. That is, it tried to remedy situations which should not exist in a teachers college. By instituting a system of checking lockers, the board hoped to end the current of petty thievery. With the cooperation of the cafeteria committee, order and cleanliness was restored to the men's lunchroom.

The board hopes that its successor will finish the job of reorganizing the commonwealth constitution which was begun this year. Changes in the constitution must be made if the board is to do more than just hand out money. Some suggested changes under consideration are: have classes as well as divisions represented on the board, have every organization of the school represented instead of only about half, have flexible working rules instead of rigid by-laws, and have all commonwealth officers carry at least twelve credits of work in this college while holding office.

The commonwealth officers for this year were Robert Schroeder, president; John Tivanovac, vice-president; and Elaine Melms, secretary-treasurer.

ECHO WEEKLY

One of the "top-notchers" in its field, the Echo Weekly, college newspaper, received the All-American pacemaker rating by the Associated Collegiate Press for the fifth consecutive year. Commended, in the analysis, for its broad news coverage and fine editorial page, the award ranks the Echo one of six outstanding university newspapers throughout the United States. Four hundred and six entries competed. The Columbia Scholastic Press association also awarded the Echo first rating.

Subsidized by the Commonwealth board and subject to regulations of the Commonwealth Publications committee, the Echo Weekly informs students of all college socials, assemblies, and athletic activities. It has a news exchange with about one hundred other high school, college, and university publications. Editorials touch largely upon teaching problems, college events, and suggestions for improving school administration. Inaugurating a new policy to afford a wider range of student opinion concerning world affairs, the editorial columns were opened to all students this year.

Peak, all-college stage show, is sponsored annually by the publication. Art Hayek's Peak Knights provided the 1940 with peppy musical assistance.

STOCK COMPANY

It was a purposeful and pleasurable year for the Stock Company; members were provided with ample opportunities to reap training and enjoyment out of the various phases of dramatics. It was also a colorful year with many and varied activities. Nineteen new members were accepted after the tryouts; there was a theater party during "The Taming of the Shrew" run in Milwaukee; and business meetings filled one evening each month.

However, the most important activities of the season were the major public productions. A reading rehearsal of "Air Raid," by Archibald MacLeish, done in radic style and directed by Waldemar Treichel and Elvira Demge, was a unique experiment.

The children's plays of the year, three one-act plays presented in one evening, were: "Rumpelstilskin," by Mrs. Wm. Slugg, Jr.; "The Flying Prince," by Peggy and Eugene Wood; and "Ferdinand, the Bull," By Munro Leaf, arranged by Elaine Erdman. They were directed and coached by Janet Bretz and Francis Dunn.

Spring productions that held the dramatic spotlight were: Shakespeare's "King Lear," which had Elaine Melms and Burton Filut as co-directors, and "The Wingless Victory," by Maxwell Anderson, directed and coached by Miss Mary Virginia Radigan, faculty adviser of Stock Company.

Officers of the ccmpany were: Elvira Demge, president; Elaine Melms, secretary; Felix Jagiella, treasurer.

"NOW, I'LL TELL YOU . . ."

It wasn't "all work and no play" for members of the Representative Speakers bureau this year, especially on the trips to Appleton, Sheboygan, Waukesha, East Troy, Wausau, and other surrounding towns. About 130 lectures and symposiums were delivered by the members to schools and other groups within the state.

As part of their concentrated advertising program, Harold Schulz made a three-day tour of ten southern Wisconsin cities and arranged to send speakers to schools in nine of those cities. The advertising committee mailed over 400 catalogs containing pictures and write-ups of the speakers to schools and organizations of the entire city and state. At the end of the first semester six new speakers were admitted to the bureau.

Streamlining the efficiency of the organization resulted in the revision of the constitution by the Forensics board. They also adopted a rating scale for selecting speakers, decided on awards for service, and formulated a budget.

CLUBS

Students having particular educational interests usually find parallel interests in their extra-curricular study clubs.

Those interested in foreign languages helped create interesting programs for the German, Latin, French and Polish clubs. Der Deutsche Verein made a short study of Richard Wagner and his music and presented a play, "Ein Deutsche Weinachtspiel," by Otto Falkenburg, which furthered the understanding of German language and life. Since French drama and literature were the primary concerns of Le Cercle Francais, meetings were devoted to French novel reviews, songs and dramatizations. So well did the members of Romani Hodierni enter into the mood of the classical past, that they reenacted a slice of Roman life. At the ancient Saturnalia festival, each guest arrived dressed as some character of the "Aeneid" and dined in characteristic Roman fashion, sans plates, sans silverware. Songs by the mayor provided one of the most exciting programs of the Joseph Conrad year, when Carl Zeidler supplemented his talk on "Men and Music" with baritone solos.

Biologists have continued their monthly field trips with visits to Donges Bay, Cedarburg Bay and Mauthe Lake. The club sponsored the Arbor Day program and has been furnishing identification labels for the campus trees. The "shutter-bugs" of the Camera club exhibited their prints in the college corridor. To climax their yearly activities, talks on Jewish, Protestant and Catholic viewpoints were discussed by the Philosophers. Pythagoreans joined other college mathematics clubs for discussions and social events.

The Delphic Women, this year, affiliated themselves with the League of American Womanhood, a national organization. To stress a more democratic viewpoint, the members of the YWCA have grouped themselves into ten committees to enable each member to participate in some activity of the organization. The newly organized Women's Service League counselled freshman students, aided the college medical staff with the all-school T. B. testing program and served tea to women transfer students.

The deaf children of Paul Binner School were entertained by the Philo-cophians at holiday parties. A special treat for the Astronomers was the opportunity to view the planets in conjunction through the telescopes they themselves had made. The Green Gull Puppeteers gave demonstrations and plays illustrating manipulation, puppet construction, costume and stage design.

Swinging into its twenty-seventh year, the Catholic Gibbonites had parties for the orphans of St. Rose Orphanage, communion breakfasts, a harvest open-house and several outstanding speakers, one of whom was Miss Ruth Mary Fox speaking on "Dante, the Greatest Catholic Poet." A joint Christmas party with the Marquette, the Wisconsin University Extension Division and the University of Wisconsin Leagues, highlighted the activities of the Lutheran Students' Association. The Student Teachers Union activities centered about an attempt to approach the economic problems pressing the students and to correlate school and educational activities with community life. Analyzing the perilous current international problems in the light of the past and looking toward the future, vitally occupied the members of the International Relations Club at their bi-monthly meetings. With Downer College, the club was host to sixty-four delegates from eight institutions at a mock League of Nations convention.

SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES

SORORITIES

The "Thespians" started a new vogue with their "slumber parties" and sunrise walks. A Christmas party at the Schroeder, the annual Clio-Thespian dance, the spring formal and the sorority cottage-week all combine into a year of exciting activities. Of course the regular business and social meetings liberally sprinkled through the calendar gave the sorority sisters many pleasant get-togethers.

A "hobo party" at Hubbard Lodge started the year for the Eradelphians; the atmosphere was "hobo-y" enough to make a tramp feel at home. The spring formal at North Shore, the graduating girls' dinner when all the graduates are presented with copper lamps in the tradition of the sorority, and the cottage party fill the rest of the year.

The Leap Year Party at Hubbard Lodge, a mother-daughter luncheon at the Ambrosia House and the summer formal at the Schroeder Hotel were the highlights of the year for members of Sigma Phi Tau. Some of the girls also assisted in the occupational-therapy department at Mt. Sinai hospital, thus doing their bit of social work.

The "Thalians," being interested in social welfare, contributed to the Children's Hospital this year by making stuffed animals and scrapbooks for the "shut-ins."

The "Clions" did some Red Cross work, gave food and clothing to two needy families, had a spring informal and a summer formal, several skirt and sweater dances, and ended the year with a riotous week at a cottage on Lake Nagawicka.

The "Ligians" started their year with the traditional candle-light supper. The supper was followed in rapid succession by a "Greenwich Village" party, a sport dance at Hubbard Lodge, a spring formal at the Astor Hotel, a graduating girls' dinner and a week at a lake cottage.

The "Utopians" will carry away memories of giving ten dollars and baskets to needy families, dancing at a skirt and sweater dance, a nautical party and the spring formal at North Hills Country Club.

The Zenobians included a trip to the morgue among their activities which were a smorgasbord supper, a bowling party, a hike, a spring formal at the Astor and a Paul Bunyan party.

True to the spirit of their patron-god, the Dionysians fill their year with merriment. The most unusual affair on their calendar is the mock formal dinner when the girls dress in sheets and pillow cases, anything but formal dress, and make prophecies about each of the members.

The members of Theta Lambda Phi evidently wished to improve on their immaculateness and beauty for they included on their program a visit to the Spic and Span Cleaners and a visit to Marty's Beauty Studio.

The girls of Alpha Gamma Lambda had a Mexican party, a Leap Year dance, a bowling party, a formal dance at North Shore and a week at Lac La Belle.

The "Muzekans" provided an evening's entertainment for the old folks at the Protestant Home, had picnic with the Beta fraternity, a formal at the Schroeder Hotel and a week at Lake Okauchee.

FRATERNITIES

Neat little tricks and razzing are again in order for fraternities because the inter-fraternity council again sanctioned informal initiations. It seems that most of the fellows have expressed their desire for informal initiation because it was one event in fraternity life that is not so easily forgotten.

The big event on the calendar, as far as fraternities were concerned, was the annual inter-fraternity dance led by Harold Schulz, president of the inter-fraternity council, and his queen, Jean Fohey. This year the dance was held at the Shorecrest Hotel.

Alpha Phi Omega has continued its policy of service; it supervises the efficient management of the Student Employment Bureau and ushers at assembly programs, plays and elections.

Inter-fraternity athletics with its friendly rivalries added to the punch of fraternity life. Delta Sigma Kappa fraternity has captured the trophy again this year as it has for the past thirteen years.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra takes part in many of the same programs that the band and A Cappella have a part in. They too play in the annual Music Festival and the music school assembly program. The orchestra with the Festival chorus performed so beautifully at the Music Festival that they received the acclaim of critics in the local papers.

The orchestra provides music at all college dramatic programs; it provides music which is in keeping with the atmosphere of the drama. Many of the young musicians of the college orchestra also belong to the Young People's Orchestra of Milwaukee. The senior and junior orchestras are both directed by Mr. Hugo Anhalt. The junior orchestra also provides opportunity for student direction.

BAND

Besides taking part in musical programs and concerts, the band is in great demand for many other school functions. The band peps up the crowds at the basketball games and parades the field during the home games of the football season. This year the band made a two day trip with the A Cappella instead of the usual five or six day tour of eastern cities. During the Parents Day program and music school assembly program students are given opportunities to conduct the band. Mr. Hugo Anhalt directs the band and the student membership represents all divisions of the college.

A CAPPELLA

Year after year the A Cappella continues to provide excellent music for the college and, in fact, for the entire eastern section of Wisconsin. The choir, conducted by Mr. Carle Oltz, sang eleven radio concerts this year. The group, with the band, made a trip to Algoma and Sheboygan to present their program at several of the schools in those cities. In Milwaukee the choir has sung for many churches, schools, civic organizations, and took part in the Parents Day program here at the college. The A Cappella also took major parts in the music school assembly program and at the annual Music Festival which was held at the Shorewood auditorium this year. Since the B A Cappella was organized in 1937, the group has grown greatly; it gives more students an opportunity to participate in choral work.

STILLMAN-KELLEY CHORUS

Second row:—Chatfield, Rischman, DeBruine, Rigas, Roecker, Neuhaus.

Third row:—Herrell, Brown, Sowle, Webster, Murphy, Buettner, Kcmman, Mueller.

Fourth row:—Bruhn, Germanson, Schaefer, Seitz, Miske, Arndt, Ninow.

STILLMAN-KELLEY CHORUS

Just as the men are represented in the Male Chorus, so are the women represented in the Stillman-Kelley chorus. This group of women are not all students of the music school, but represent women of all divisions who like to sing. The chorus sang at the Parents Day program, Training School PTA dinner and at various churches and schools in the city. The chorus is conducted by various girls of the music division; it gives them an opportunity to conduct and the chorus an experience in group singing.

MALE CHORUS

First row:—Stege, Dinsmore, Prioletta, Schallock, Maurer, Awe, Moyle, Kurtz, Itskowitz, Schultz, Cinatl, Hopkins.

Second row:—Stansell, Weirauch, Erickson, Criscimagna, Leshin, Cincotta, Varsos, Krempel, Weber, Purvis, Green, Staples, Poepke.

Third row:—McCann, Blanski, Kauck, Lontkowski, Ward, Anastapolos, Anderson, Vitrano, Solom, Schwei, Diener, Diedrich.

Fourth row:—Gibson, Wenger, Hall, Harrass, Trimble, Young, Block, Place.

MALE CHORUS

The Male Chorus is an organization of seventy men who "get together because they like to sing."

The aroma of coffee which haunts the halls on Monday evenings comes from the kitchenette where coffee is made to be served to the chorus before rehearsal at 6:00 p. m. Rehearsal is also held at 4:30 p. m. on Fridays.

The chorus has given eleven concerts this year at the following places: Industrial School for Girls, St. Rose Orphanage, Protestant Home for the Aged, Sacred Heart Sanitarium, Tippecanoe Presbyterian Church, Grace Presbyterian Church, Holy Angels Academy, Estabrook CCC Camp, the Seventeenth and Keefe School, the Elementary and Men's Club parties, and at an all-college assembly.

An octet of Male Chorus members participating in Peak Nite this year won the second prize for group acts.

The two social events of the group for the year were a Christmas dance for the active members and a reunion dance for present members and alumni of the chorus.

The director of the chorus is Mr. Samuel Thorn and the officers are Vernon Harrass, president; Howard Paepke, vice-president; Peter Salamun, secretary; Louis Green, treasurer; and Dan Block, librarian.

FOOTBALL

Coach Herman Kluge's gridiron warriors opened the 1940 campaign with an inauspicious game against Carroll college which the Pioneers won 13-7. Taking advantage of several bad fumbles on the part of the green and white pigskinners, Coach Johnny Breen's big orange eleven copped the game. The Milwaukee State gridders outfought and outgained the burly Pioneer eleven, but it just wasn't their day. After a week of intensive practice and scrimmage, the local gridders met a weak Platteville outfit in a dedication game on the new gridiron. Loaded for bear as a result of the Carroll loss, the locals overwhelmed the hapless State Liner squad and scored a smashing victory 19-0. Bob Eckenrod was the bright light in the Milwaukee attack by scoring two touchdowns, one on a pass and the other the result of a short thrust off tackle. The following Saturday the big green and white eleven journeyed to Whitewater where they met a weaker but inspired Quaker machine. Four hundred rabid Milwaukee rooters followed the team on a special train. Whitewater drew first blood early in the opening conto by capitalizing on a Milwaukee fumble of the opening kickoff. Things looked bad for the Green Gulls as the Quakers scored on three quick plays, but after this initial score the Klugemen settled down to some real football. Midway in the second quarter Eckenrod hurled a long pass to Ray Krzoska who took the ball in stride and crossed the line standing up. Krzoska then converted the game-winning extra point. The second half was a bitterly fought 30 minutes, but the Agnewmen could not penetrate into Gull territory. As the final gun sounded the green and white aggregation walked off the field happy that they had eked out a win. Coach Kluge took what cockiness was left in the gridders after the Whitewater game out in the week of practice before the crucial Stevens Point game. As a result the Klugemen played their best football of the year to crush the hapless pointers 27-6 at Stevens Point. This conference win was the Gull's third consecutive victory, and assured them at least a tie for the Southern Division crown. Following the Point win, the gridders scheduled what was originally thought to be a breather with DeKalb Teachers of Illinois. The game proved to be one of the toughest of a hard campaign as the local green and white eleven was lucky to escape with a 0-0 tie. The DeKalb outfit, built around several tremendously big tackles, stopped everything the Milwaukeeans had to offer, but in turn, their defensive ability was no better. Following the DeKalb fiasco, the locals prepared for the championship game with the Oshkosh Titans. After a big Homecoming parade the Klugemen gave the 1,200 fans attending the Homecoming contest a real treat as they cut down the Titans to score a stunning 14-7 win. Every one of the boys who saw action played outstanding ball, and with the victory the Klugemen copped their first undisputed title to the grid crown since 1931. By mere coincidence the last game of the season scheduled with LaCrosse turned out to be a battle for the "mythical" teachers championship of Wisconsin. The Indians had previously won the Northern division crown of the teachers conference. Although the Smithmen started fast and scored in the first quarter, the local gridders outbattled them all the way and emerged the winners, 13-7—Wisconsin State Teachers champions.

BASKETBALL

Coach Guy Penwell's tall, high scoring cage team enjoyed one of the best seasons in the history of the college as they won 12 games and dropped 4 for a .750 average. Off to a slow start against Carroll, the locals took a sound thumping from the orange quintet. However, from there on, they started to play better basketball, and on a two-day road trip to Illinois defeated the Chicago Teachers five, and were upset by Illinois Normal. During the Christmas vacation the cagers went on an extensive trip to Nebraska where they were downed by a Peru Teachers Squad. Following this loss the Penwellmen started a winning streak at the expense of the Wayne Teachers quintet of Nebraska. Once more on their home boards, the local five stepped it up to high and trounced Carroll to avenge the season opener defeat. With their confidence restored the cagers trampled over St. Norbert, Oshkosh, Whitewater, Stevens Point, Platteville, St. Norbert, and Stevens Point before they were upset by a fighting Whitewater band in the Quaker field house. Following this, the last setback of the season, the green and white bucketeers swamped Oshkosh and Platteville to close the season. While in the midst of the nine game winning streak the local five maintained a 52 point per game average to literally blast all opposition off the floor. In addition to winning the Southern Division title, the locals placed two men on the all-conference quintet: Ray Krzoska and Ken Buehler. Buehler led the scoring league with a record breaking total of 114 points for eight contests. Krzoska took the runner-up spot among individual league scores by totaling 114 points. Buehler also established a new individual game scoring record by dropping in 32 points in one game against Stevens Point.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

From the first days of school this fall, when hockey was foremost in the thoughts of athletic coeds, to the pleasant spring days when tennis and archery tournaments held sway, the Women's Athletic Association under the leadership of Katherine Stier, president, was busy carrying out a successful athletic program for all college women.

In October, jump ropes, jacks, pea shooters, and marbles made an appearance when the club held its annual Tom Boy party to introduce the association to the new girls in school, while November found club members busy making plans for the WAA entry into the Homecoming parade.

Although purchasing and repairing equipment is one of the major duties of the WAA, many other activities were carried on during the year.

With the aid of the Commonwealth, the club arranged for the Hanya Holm dancers to appear before the entire student body in a lecture demonstration. In the spring a sports week-end for all girls in school was held, and delegates were sent to the North Central District Convention in Normal, Ill., and to the Water Sports Conference at the University of Wisconsin.

"Popcorn! Peanuts!" This was the cry of many WAA members, for perhaps the biggest and certainly the newest activity undertaken by the club this year was the running of a concession stand at the football and basketball games. With the proceeds a banquet was given at the City Club for the football, basketball, and track teams. The success of the venture, under the supervision of Doris Jane Phillips, led the executive board to consider the banquet committee on an equal basis with other sports, and a banquet fund was set up so that a dinner can be given for these teams in successive years.

Other officers of the club were: vice-president, Genevieve Eldredge; recording secretary, Mary Holgate; corresponding secretary, Carol Kyper; treasurer, Gerry Derfus.

Sports heads for the year were as follows: hockey, Genevieve Eldredge; basketball, Irene Tenney; volleyball, Ruth Rowald; baseball, Marion Arbuckle; swimming, Ruth Kern; tennis, Ruth Meifert; badminton, Dorothy Babich; archery, La Verne Sass; folk dancing, Winifred Propp; Orchesis, Carol Kyper; golf, Jean Taylor; ping pong, Helen Busche; bowling, Margaret J. Schmidt; horseshoes, Frances McCarthy.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

The intramural program under the guiding hand of Coach Herman Kluge enjoyed the most successful year in the history of the college. Included in the varied program offered was touch football, basketball, baseball, handball, badminton, table tennis, free throw contests, and archery and fencing. The intramural board, directed by Tony Vitrano, deserves much credit for the success of the 1939-40 intramural program. To top the season's sport parade the annual boxing and wrestling show was held in April with eleven men taking division crowns.

GOLF

Coach Guy Penwell's niblick wielders enjoyed a fairly successful season as they played home and home matches with Carroll college, St. Norbert, Whitewater and Oshkosh. In addition to these meets the divot-diggers entered the state teachers conference meet at Eau Claire. Carrying the majority of the work, John Reuter, Jim Lawrie, John Christiansen and Paul Ridley comprised the squad.

TRACK

With a tough schedule to face, the local thin-clads had a tough row to hoe as they tangled with several top-notch Illinois squads early in the season. After making a good showing against this competition, the locals really cleaned up on everything in sight and were prime favorites to cop their thirteenth consecutive state title. The cinder-squad was built around Casey Cebrowski, Joe Knofczynski, Roy Aschenbrenner, Bob Eckenrod, Bob Gleissner, Elmer Deblitz, Myron Sands, and Frank Kariotis. Tetzlaff was the individual standout in every meet as he copped firsts in the broad jump, javelin, dashes, shotput, and the hurdles.

TRACK TEAM

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

CROSS COUNTRY

The jinx that had followed the cross country squad for the past two years was literally thrown out of the window this season as the Penwell harriers outran all competition. Numbered among their victims were such prominent cross country squads as the Loyola University team and the Milwaukee YMCA harriers, composed of former college stars. Casey Cebrowski was again the outstanding star followed closely by Joe Knofczynski. Other letter-winners were Chuck Mallue, Nic Skaros, Gene Tornow, and Fred Vetter. Vetter, a newcomer to the squad, showed much promise and should be a great runner next fall. All of the thin-clad letter-winners will return to the squad next fall with the exception of Tornow, who is graduating.

SWIMMING TEAM

SWIMMING

The swimmers under the tutelage of Coach Herman Kluge enjoyed another highly successful season as they swamped six opponents in dual meets while dropping only two. In addition the mermen outswam the entire field at the state meet to easily romp home the winners. At the conclusion of the season the swimmers elected Barney Dietz and Dave Jeffery as co-captains for the coming season to supplant Art Vierthaler, who graduates.

WILSON KUENZIE, GEORGE LEWIS, co-directors.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

Because the majority of its students find it necessary to work part-time, the college has long felt the need for a bureau which would devote time to finding part-time jobs. Although the deans have done fine work in locating positions, their duties are such that they are able to spend only a part of their time in keeping in contact with employers for job-seeking students.

The employment bureau is an outgrowth of a suggestion made by Dr. Bayrd Still, former history instructor, at the Alpha Phi Omega's formal initiation one year ago last May. Incorporation of the bureau as a subsidiary Commonwealth committee followed a recommendation of the fraternity that it be organized as an extra-curricular activity. It is hoped by the Commonwealth committee that the experiment will supplement the work done by the NYA and that it will continue to function as a permanent institution in the college.

It is estimated by this year's administrators, Wilson Kuenzie, George Lewis, and Steve Vrsata, that about 385 potential employers were contacted and 270 students have been placed in positions ranging from waiters to professional tutors.

WPA HANDICRAFT PROJECT

Concluding its fourth year of service as sponsored by the college, the WPA handicraft project has a successful achievement record to show. It has developed, in a few years, from a small group of women selected from relief lists, many of whom had no previous training and were unskilled in the field of handicraft, to a project including hundreds of women employed in three workshops throughout the city.

Under the supervision of Miss Elsa Ulbricht, art instructor, the women have made a name for themselves in that their work has been exhibited throughout the United States and that they have acquired training which will aid them in making a living.

Delving into the broad field of handicraft work, block printing, book-binding, weaving, furniture designing, and toy and costume making are among the many arts open to women employed on the project. Skilled designers direct their work, and as a result, many original patterns have been developed.

ANTHONY VITRANO, co-administrator.

DO YOU WANT A JOB?

Working behind the scenes at Milwaukee State Teachers College the National Youth Administration has extended a helping hand to many college men and women by enabling them to work and earn money for themselves and continue their education. An average of 220 students were placed in diverse positions under the capable administration of Anthony Vitrano and Otto Schultz.

The majority of the students worked as assistants in the reserve, reference, or textbook libraries, or served as clerical workers for instructors. Others filled positions as school janitors or cafeteria workers.

This branch is one of the few bureaus in the United States operated solely by a student administration.
